

Security Council

Distr.: General
8 March 2012

Original: English

Identical letters dated 8 March 2012 from the Permanent Representative of Israel to the United Nations addressed to the Secretary-General and the President of the Security Council

Reminder: One million civilians in southern Israel remain under fire.

- In the past seven days, seven rockets have exploded in Israeli communities.
- Not one word of condemnation has been issued by the Security Council, to date.
- No responsible Government can tolerate the unabated targeting of its citizens.

Caution: Inaction today will bring instability tomorrow.

I should be grateful if you would have this letter distributed as a document of the Security Council.
